MESSAGE FROM THE ESTATE MANAGER

Dear Residents,

April arrived with the gentle colours of autumn – leaves turning and drifting, long weekends offering a welcome pause, and the quiet reminder that the changing of seasons brings with it a chance to rest, reconnect, and reflect.

Beneath the surface calm, however, April was anything but uneventful.

Our second SANBS Blood Drive of the year was held early in the month, with 31 units donated by our generous community. This contribution is particularly meaningful in the aftermath of Easter – a period traditionally associated with increased travel and, sadly, higher accident rates. Every unit donated helps replenish stocks at a time when demand surges. To everyone who rolled up a sleeve: thank you. You may well have saved a life.

The 2026/2027 budget has been finalised and distributed to residents. This forward-focused budget ensures that the essentials of security and estate maintenance are firmly in place, alongside carefully considered projects to improve our facilities and enhance estate life. As my second budget as Estate Manager, it reflects the Board's shared commitment to ensuring that Fourways Gardens remains competitive, secure, and exceptional – without ever losing what makes it truly special: the community spirit at the heart of your Sanctuary in the City.

This month's magazine also celebrates two wonderful events. Our Easter Egg Hunt drew a beautifully diverse crowd of residents and guests, all enjoying our facilities and one another's company – a reminder of the warmth that defines life here. We also feature the Classics Club Soirée Française with La Vie Nouvelle

Charlene Marlin, Estate Manager

TOTALCARE – an evening of elegant entertainment, laughter, and connection for our over-60s community. Both events captured something genuine about who we are as an estate.

Looking ahead, May is packed with reasons to get out and enjoy the estate.

Our Farmer's Market returns on Sunday, 3 May, at the Phase 1 Park, from 9am to 1pm. The enthusiasm for our trial market in February was extraordinary, and it has allowed us to grow, with nearly 30 stalls confirmed, all carefully selected to reflect the event's foodie focus. Expect fresh produce, artisan goods, live music, and face painting. We look forward to seeing you there.

May also gives us the opportunity to celebrate the most important women in our lives. On Sunday, 11 May, The Gardens Bistro plays host to a Mother's Day Lunch, brought to you in partnership with O-Yes Properties. Settle in for a carefully crafted menu, live music setting the mood, and thoughtful gifts to honour every mom in the room – with kiddies' entertainment on hand to keep the little ones happy while the grown-ups enjoy a well-deserved moment of celebration. It promises to be a warm, memorable afternoon for the whole family. Bookings are essential – watch the newsletter and notice boards for details.

And rounding out a busy month, our first Movie Night of 2026 features Zootopia 2 – an award-winning film with charm to spare for young and old alike. Brought to you in partnership with our sponsors at Century 21, the evening begins with live music in the park at 3pm, followed by a selection of food trucks and, of course, the main feature. This is one not to be missed, so mark Saturday, 16 May 2026, on your calendar and keep an eye out for more details in the newsletter!

On a matter that is close to my heart as both an Estate Manager and a dog-mom:

roaming pets remain a concern within the estate. Rather than dwell on the considerable resources spent managing this, I would simply like to appeal, warmly but sincerely, to all pet owners: please ensure your animals are securely contained, and that everyone in your household understands the importance of closing gates and doors. A microchip with current contact details makes an enormous difference – our security team can reunite a chipped pet with its family quickly and with minimal distress. Where animals are unchipped and uncollared, and remain unclaimed, security has no option but to transport them to a local vet, as the estate does not have the facilities to house animals for extended periods.

To assist residents, a Community Fair will be held in the upper Phase 1 Park, opposite the Nature Reserve, on Saturday, 9 May 2026. The event will include pet microchipping and vaccinations with Dog's Trust, while Identipet will be on-site to assist with microchip registrations and updating your details. Fire extinguisher servicing by CJS will also be available – a timely opportunity to have units serviced and recharged ahead of the winter months. In addition, a Car Boot Sale will offer residents the chance to declutter and give pre-loved items a new home. Rounding out the morning, a guest coffee truck, The Smiling Barista, will be in attendance, so you can enjoy a quality cup of coffee while browsing and using the various services on offer. Spots are limited, so please email Mercy at admin@fwg.co.za to secure yours without delay.

As we settle into the new financial year, I want to reassure residents that the HOA team remains fully available to answer queries and provide assistance. While some matters fall outside our direct mandate, we will always do our best to help or point you in the right direction.

We also genuinely welcome your feedback – a fresh perspective sometimes reveals an opportunity for improvement we hadn't considered, and a kind word when things are going well means more than you might imagine. Our team frequently operates at the coalface of complex inter-resident matters, municipal frustrations, and competing expectations. They bring dedication, empathy, and professionalism to every interaction – and small encouragements go a long way.

In that spirit, I ask that all residents extend courtesy and respect to every member of our team, whether in the HOA office, security, maintenance, or landscaping. Rudeness and abusive behaviour – even where an apology follows – leaves a mark on morale that is not easily undone. Our people are our greatest asset, and they deserve to feel valued.

Here's to a wonderful May.

KIDNAPPING AND HIJACKING: AN EVOLVING AND CONVERGING THREAT

24/7 Security Services has noted an increase in kidnappings and missing persons. Available data and operational experience both point to the same reality: this category of crime is growing, and the risk is no longer isolated to specific groups of people.

One of the most concerning developments is the rise of express kidnapping. These incidents are typically short in duration but highly controlled and traumatic. Victims are abducted and coerced – often under threat of violence, forced into unlocking mobile banking applications, transferring funds, or withdrawing cash. In many cases, perpetrators closely monitor victims throughout the process, ensuring compliance while rapidly moving funds, sometimes even across international accounts, making recovery extremely difficult.

What to do if you are a victim

If confronted with a hijacking or kidnapping, your primary objective is survival:

- Remain calm and composed: Avoid panic or emotional reactions
- Comply immediately: Do not delay or question instructions
- Be polite and non-confrontational: Acknowledge instructions calmly
- Avoid sudden movements that could be misinterpreted
- Do not resist or attempt deception

- Do not activate panic features unless absolutely safe
- Provide only what is demanded, nothing more

Your safety is always more important than any financial loss.

Immediately after the incident

Once you are safe, act without delay:

- Contact your bank to freeze accounts, cancel cards, and restrict digital access
- Notify your mobile provider to prevent SIM swap fraud
- Report the incident to your security company and law enforcement
- Document everything you remember – suspects, vehicles, locations, timelines

Prevention: Awareness is your first line of defence

While no system can eliminate risk, awareness significantly reduces vulnerability:

- Stay alert, especially in driveways, at gates, and at intersections
- Keep doors locked and windows closed
- Avoid distractions – particularly mobile phone use in public or while driving
- Be cautious of staged distractions designed to lure you out of your vehicle
- Consider additional security such as tracking and remote immobilisation systems

The hijacking – kidnapping connection

A critical shift in criminal tactics is the increasing link between hijackings and kidnappings.

In Gauteng, hijackings are on the rise – ironically driven by improvements in vehicle security. Modern cars are now equipped with advanced locking systems, keyless entry, and immobilisers, making them significantly harder to steal when parked. As a result, criminals have adapted.

Instead of targeting unattended vehicles, they now target drivers directly.

Hijackings often serve as the starting point:

- A driver is ambushed at a vulnerable

moment (driveways, traffic lights, loading zones)

- The vehicle is taken while occupied
- The crime escalates into a kidnapping, with victims held while financial exploitation takes place

This evolution has made everyday routines – arriving home, stopping at intersections, or even short trips – potential risk points.

Why this trend is increasing

Several factors are driving this shift:

- Advanced vehicle security has reduced traditional car theft
- Faster monetisation through forced banking access
- Lower traceability, especially with digital transfers
- Human vulnerability, particularly during routine or distracted moments

Criminals are opportunistic but increasingly strategic – targeting predictability and distraction.

Kidnapping and hijacking are no longer isolated threats – they are connected, evolving, and increasingly sophisticated crimes. The shift toward express kidnappings highlights a broader trend: criminals are prioritising speed, control, and financial gain.

The reality is clear: anyone can be a target.

However, through awareness, preparedness, and the support of professional security infrastructure, individuals and businesses can significantly reduce risk and improve their ability to respond effectively when it matters most.

Operational response: 24/7 Security capability

Effective response is not accidental – it is built on training, coordination, and technology.

24/7 Security teams on the ground, supported by our Command Centre, are trained to respond immediately to hijacking and kidnapping incidents. This includes rapid escalation protocols, real-time coordination with armed response units, and continuous communication with clients and authorities.

A key advantage lies in integrating advanced surveillance tools, such as Vumacam Flock. This system enables deeper investigative capability, allowing teams to identify vehicles that may have followed a victim over time, detect suspicious patterns, and support both proactive and reactive operations.

SEE SOMETHING, SAY SOMETHING

Please report all security-related matters immediately, without delay.

A delay in reporting = a delay in resolution.

A MAGICAL EASTER EGG HUNT BRINGS OUR COMMUNITY TOGETHER

On Sunday, 29 March 2026, our community came alive with excitement as children and families gathered for the annual Easter Egg Hunt, proudly sponsored by Rob Els and Kim Williams of Meridian Realty. The day could not have been more perfect, with the sun shining and colourful Easter décor, including bunnies hopping around the dam in Phase 2, setting the stage for a truly magical event.

Anticipation was high among the little ones, and the energy was infectious! The fun kicked off with face painting and an Easter-themed jumping castle, giving kids the chance to start their day with creativity and laughter. But when the Easter Bunny finally made their appearance, it was absolute chaos in the best possible way! Children clamoured to meet the Bunny and take photos, while others eagerly lined up for the main event: the Easter Egg Hunt.

Once the eggs were found, the excitement didn't end there. Families enjoyed a series of classic lawn games that had everyone laughing and cheering: the egg-and-spoon race, sack race, and the three-legged race. Winners of these games were rewarded with delicious Geldhof Easter Bunny chocolate, adding a sweet touch to the competitive fun.

The highlight for many was the fabulous Geldhof Easter hamper, generously provided by Rob Els and Kim Williams, up for grabs. One lucky winner walked away with the prize, adding an extra layer of joy to a day filled with smiles, laughter, and community spirit.

We would like to extend a special thank you to Shaun and Shannon Jacobs, who stepped in to coordinate the lawn games. Unaware of the thank you hamper of Geldhof chocolates, they volunteered purely out of a genuine sense of community spirit – a gesture that truly embodies the event's ethos.

It was a day to remember, bringing together neighbours and friends for Easter celebrations that combined tradition, fun, and a strong sense of togetherness. A heartfelt thank you to Rob Els and Kim Williams of Meridian Realty for sponsoring this delightful event and helping create such treasured memories for all.

CLASSICS CLUB SOIRÉE

Wednesday, 1 April 2026

With huge thanks to TOTALCARE La Vie Nouvelle in Broadacres, we had the most amazing function on this April Fool's Wednesday! TOTALCARE were no fools though – they truly spoiled us with welcome drinks, delicious snacks, and a warm glimpse into the care and community they create at their facilities.

It was especially lovely connecting with Marinda Nell and Leilani Kuter, whose passion for people and genuine hearts really shone through on the evening. There's a quiet reassurance in knowing there are spaces designed with comfort, dignity and peace of mind at heart – places that support everything from independent living to more specialised care when needed.

We threw down the gauntlet with our French-themed challenge, and wow – did our members deliver! Dressed as a dazzling cancan lady, Joanna took the cake as she twirled her way straight to victory, claiming the ultimate prize: a bottle of bubbles (because what else could a cancan queen possibly win?). Her outfit was nothing short of spectacular!

Of course, the competition was fierce, with plenty of close contenders snapping at her heels. The enthusiasm, creativity and sheer joie de vivre from everyone made the night unforgettable. Vive la fête!

A big thank you to TOTALCARE for gifting three lucky members a R250 Bistro voucher each – we can't wait to hear about the delicious meals they'll enjoy!

The atmosphere was pure magic, thanks to Francois and Ivan's enchanting piano and violin melodies. The kids were mesmerised, and we adults were tapping our feet, itching to bust a move!

Merci Flowers struck a chord with their generous donation – thank you, Taniel! Our lucky winner, Deirdre, took home a stunning bouquet, guaranteed to brighten any space. Be sure to check out Merci Flowers for their weekly specials – beautiful blooms at fantastic value!

Our plan for the year seems to be on track – so remember to diarise the upcoming dates!

- Friday, 8 May – 12pm – Lunch at the tennis gazebo
- Friday, 5 June – 5pm – Dinner in the hall
- Friday, 3 July – 10am – Brunch in the hall
- Wednesday, 5 August – 12pm – Lunch on the patio

A very special and big thank you again to our members for your contributions to the Regomoditse Children's Home, Dog's Trust and Charity Begins with Me! It warms my heart to drop off the donations after our meetings – I'm so grateful to be part of such an awesome group of Classics!

Please spread the word about our meetings – anyone from anywhere – let's create a community of sharing and caring Classics!

AN EVENING OF ROMANCE, MUSIC & MEMORABLE MOMENTS

Highlights from this year's Month of Love – Valentine's Day evening was beautifully celebrated at the estate Bistro with an intimate and vibrant three-course Valentine's Dinner that truly captured the spirit of community. The evening was proudly supported by Kristy and Teresa from Meridian Realty together with Chantal from Mortgage Market, whose sponsorship and involvement helped make the event such a resounding success. Guests were treated to live music by Peter, a warm and welcoming atmosphere, and a delectable dining experience that perfectly set the tone for a night of connection and celebration.

The excitement continued with wonderful prizes that added to the festive spirit of the evening. Hannah walked away with a luxurious aromatherapy couples massage voucher, Leo (all the way from Austria) delighted in winning the indulgent Geldhof chocolate hamper, and Correne claimed victory in the ever popular "Pass the Key" competition. Hosted seamlessly by Belinda and her dedicated team, the evening was filled with laughter, elegance, and heartfelt moments. It was, without doubt, a fabulous affair – and we hope every diner left with lasting memories of a truly special Valentine's celebration.

What If Childhood Isn't A Race, But A Journey Of Becoming?

Children don't need perfect childhoods. They need real ones; filled with play, protection, and participation, where growth happens naturally, not on a schedule.

In an age of packed calendars, rising anxieties, constant supervision, and digital overload, childhood is quietly shrinking. As parents and caregivers strive to do everything "right," many young children are left with fewer chances to explore freely, stumble safely, and discover what they are capable of.

"Today's parenting styles often come from a place of deep love," says Ursula Assis, Country Director for Dibber International Education in South Africa. "But when we hover too closely or clear every obstacle before our children reach it, we can unintentionally take away the very challenges that help them build confidence and resilience."

Dibber's approach, grounded in Nordic pedagogical principles, embraces this balance. Children are supported, guided, and kept safe - while still being encouraged to act independently, take age-appropriate risks, and learn through experiences.

"Children build confidence by trying, failing, and trying again. That's where resilience begins," Assis explains. "When we pair warmth with boundaries, and love with opportunity, we see incredible growth, socially, emotionally, and academically."

In South Africa, Dibber - founded in Norway in 2003 and now a global leader in early childhood education with over 600 preschools and schools across 9 countries, including over 17 in South Africa - believes families have a unique advantage: community. "That village of support is our strength," Assis adds. "There's no app that can replace the value of human connection."

Across Dibber campuses in Johannesburg, Pretoria, and Cape Town, the educators act as gentle guides, offering structure, empathy, and reassurance as children navigate early challenges. The result is a bunch of children who feel seen, heard, and confident enough to explore the world around them.

"Resilience doesn't come from a perfectly smooth path," says Assis. "It comes from knowing that when life gets bumpy, someone is there to support you while you take the wheel."

As parents, we don't need to orchestrate every moment or remove every challenge. What children need most is trust; the freedom to try, the safety to fail, and the comfort of knowing they are supported, not steered.

Because when childhood is rooted in play, care, and connection, children don't just cope with the world as it is - they grow up ready to shape it.

MONTHLY DRAW

The March 2026 Monthly Draw was an absolute delight! On a beautiful evening, families, friends, and neighbours came together to enjoy live music, savour delicious meals at the Gardens Bistro, and reconnect with the Fourways Gardens community. The atmosphere was lively and inviting, filled with laughter, conversation, and the unmistakable warmth of neighbours enjoying time together.

Proudly sponsored by Century 21, this monthly event remains one of the highlights of the Fourways Gardens events calendar. It offers residents the perfect opportunity to unwind, socialise, and enjoy a relaxed yet festive evening.

This month, The Gardens Bistro went the extra mile by adding paint hampers to the kiddies' prizes up for grabs. Hats off to our winners! Lucky Draw prizes were scooped up by Tami Garland, Tanya Watson, and Renzo Moreira. Burn the Bill champions were Jacqui Robus and Mike Ashcroft, while Matty Meyer and Holly Meyer walked away with the paint hampers.

The jackpot may have stayed in the pot, but the evening was far from a loss. From the great entertainment to the laughter shared between neighbours, it was a wonderful reminder of the spirit that makes Fourways Gardens so special.

The excitement is only growing, too! Since there was no cash prize winner this time, the R5,250 carries over to next month. Mark your calendars for April – the stakes are higher, and the atmosphere is sure to be electric.

Remember, you have to be present and in good standing to claim the cash prize if your stand is drawn!

QUIZ NIGHT

Friday, 20 March 2026

When there's a hall filled with jovial guests and tables adorned with an array of mascots, there can be only one conclusion: it's Quiz Night. Friday's event was packed with enthusiastic quizzers, and the atmosphere was nothing short of electric.

With many new faces joining the regulars, the competition was fierce from the outset, as teams set out to prove their intellectual prowess. The questions ranged from the blatantly obvious to the delightfully obscure, with Quiz Master Dayle delivering a particularly impressive challenge that had everyone scratching their heads.

Are you smarter than a Fourways Gardens Quizzer?

Arrange the 40 words into 10 groups of four based on their connection to each other (answers are at the end of the article):

DESIRE	CANAPÉ	LADDER	BACK DOOR	THONG
TROJAN HORSE	TAILOR	HARD HAT	THIRST	SCROOGE
VIRUS	BOXERS	DOMINO	EARNEST	WORM
DONALD	ITCH	ORCA	DODGE	RAM
FORD	LAP	RUSTLE	TAPAS	TWEETY
URGE	FOGHORN	ZEBRA	BULL	NAIL GUN
FINGER FOOD	TOOL BELT	PANTIES	UNDER	WATCH
LINCOLN	BRIEFS	KNEEL	PENGUIN	HORS D'OEUVRE

As always, Quiz Night delivered plenty of laughs and spirited competition, leaving us eagerly anticipating the next instalment.

When it came to prizes, generously sponsored by Bronwyn Butt Conveyancers and Attorneys, third place was claimed by It's All Relative. A tightly contested battle for the top spot required a tie-break, with Boomers and the Brain securing second place on a commendable 59.5 points. Team of the Month demonstrated true staying power and, thanks to a well-judged tie-break answer, edged ahead to claim first place with 60.5 points.

This month's lucky draw prize – a delectable Easter hamper – certainly caught everyone's eye.

Our sincere thanks go to Bronwyn Butt Conveyancers and Attorneys for their generous support and warm involvement, which continue to make Quiz Night such an enjoyable community event. Be sure to join us for the next Quiz Night.

A Life Green Group perspective on porcupines, rodent control, and responsible biodiversity stewardship at Fourways Gardens Estate

As the biodiversity partner for Fourways Gardens Estate, Life Green Group is committed to helping residents enjoy beautifully maintained landscapes while ensuring that the estate's natural ecosystems remain healthy, resilient, and thriving. One of the greatest assets of Fourways Gardens is its rich biodiversity, and with that comes the privilege and responsibility of coexisting with the wildlife that shares our environment.

Recently, a number of residents have experienced challenges with porcupines feeding on garden plants, and some homes have seen increased rodent activity. These issues are common in eco friendly estates that provide habitat for urban wildlife, but with thoughtful solutions, residents can protect their gardens while supporting the ecological balance that makes the estate so special.

Understanding porcupines in the estate landscape

Porcupines are an important part of South Africa's natural ecosystem. They are shy, nocturnal, and generally cause no harm beyond their enthusiastic nibbling of bulbs, soft herbs, and freshly planted flowers. Their natural behaviours, such as digging, help aerate the soil and contribute to nutrient cycling, which indirectly benefits the surrounding environment.

Life Green Group encourages residents to view porcupines as part of the estate's biodiversity rather than a threat. At the same time, we recognise the frustration when prized gardens become an unintended buffet. Fortunately, there are effective, non harmful ways to deter porcupine activity while maintaining ecological integrity.

Porcupine resistant gardening strategies

1. Planting with purpose

Certain plant species are naturally less appealing to porcupines. Integrating these into garden designs can significantly reduce browsing. These include:

- Lavender
- Rosemary
- Aloes and hardy succulents
- Salvia varieties
- Agapanthus

These species are not only more resistant to wildlife but are also water wise and well suited to the Highveld climate.

2. Natural, non invasive barriers

Strategic landscaping can help minimise garden damage. Options include:

- Edging beds with rocks or uneven hardscape features
- Using coarse mulch around vulnerable plants
- Incorporating strongly scented plants as perimeter deterrents

These solutions discourage entry without posing any physical risk to wildlife.

3. Gentle behavioural deterrents

Solar powered motion sensor lights are a simple, wildlife friendly way to redirect porcupines away from highly prized beds. Sudden light encourages them to move along without causing stress or harm.

4. Raised or contained beds

Vegetable gardens and high value flower beds can be protected by elevating them or using wooden planters and containers, an aesthetically pleasing and functional approach.

Environmentally responsible rodent management

Life Green Group also supports Fourways Gardens Estate's commitment to natural rodent control through the installation of owl boxes. Owls are highly effective predators, capable of consuming hundreds of rodents annually. For this reason, the use of rodenticides is incompatible with the estate's biodiversity management goals.

Rodenticides pose a severe threat to owls, other predators, and even domestic pets through secondary poisoning. To maintain a safe, functional ecosystem, residents are encouraged to adopt the following eco-friendly rodent management methods:

- Secure all food sources including pet food, compost, and waste bins.
- Seal structural entry points around homes to prevent nesting.
- Use enclosed snap traps (never glue traps) to ensure non target species are not harmed.
- Reduce hiding spots by clearing dense vegetation directly against boundary walls or storage areas.

- Support owl habitat by avoiding disturbance around owl boxes and reporting any maintenance needs.

By working with natural predators rather than against them, the estate strengthens its ecological balance while maintaining a safer environment for residents and wildlife alike.

A shared commitment to ecological balance

Life Green Group is proud to partner with Fourways Gardens Estate in promoting responsible biodiversity management. Our goal is to help residents enjoy thriving, beautiful gardens while ensuring that wildlife can continue to play its essential role in the ecosystem.

Living in harmony with nature is not always effortless, but it is deeply rewarding. Through thoughtful planting choices, wildlife friendly deterrent methods, and environmentally responsible rodent control, the community can continue to protect both its natural heritage and its landscaped beauty.

Together, we can ensure that Fourways Gardens Estate remains a place where people and nature coexist in a healthy, sustainable, and mutually enriching environment.

JUST ABOUT WHAT YOU KNOW. IT'S ABOUT WHO YOU BECOME."

LEARNING WITHOUT LIMITS

At the American International School of Johannesburg (AISJ), academic excellence is just the beginning. For over 40 years, we have empowered students to explore, create, and grow in a learning environment tailored to their needs.

With campuses in both Pretoria & Johannesburg, the school serves expatriate and local families alike, combining world-class academic standards with a commitment to the holistic development of the child. Students are not just taught; they are known. Our students are given the freedom to pursue their passions, explore new interests, and shape their own educational journey.

LEARNING ISN'T LINEAR

AISJ's instruction is designed to adapt - helping students understand ideas, not just facts. Students ask questions, make connections across subjects, and apply their knowledge in meaningful ways, preparing them for life beyond the classroom. We emphasise a deeper understanding, critical thinking, and real-world problem-solving.

Academic rigour is built on decades of experience, having offered the International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme (IBDP) for over 30 years and now expanding excellence to the Elementary School with candidacy for the International Baccalaureate Primary Years Programme (IB PYP). These globally recognised programmes provide students with the critical thinking, inquiry skills, and conceptual understanding necessary to succeed in top universities and beyond.

Early Learning starts at 3! AISJ now offers a Pre-K 3 programme, providing three-year-olds with a nurturing, inquiry-based introduction to school that fosters curiosity, confidence, and a love of learning from the very beginning.

DESIGNED FOR DIFFERENCE

One of AISJ's most distinctive features is its focus on ensuring that every student receives the education they need in the way that best suits them. By embracing neurodiversity, we create learning experiences that adapt to a wide range of strengths, needs, and ways of thinking.

Every child learns differently, and those differences are understood, valued, and supported. Learning environments and pathways are thoughtfully designed to meet students where they are, honouring diverse learning styles and interests.

By adjusting instruction, support, and opportunities as students grow, we ensure that each learner is appropriately challenged, intentionally supported, and empowered to build confidence, independence, and success.

DISCOVER HOW A STRONG START LEADS TO A BRIGHT FUTURE!

THE FOUR PILLARS OF LEARNING

AISJ's balanced education is built on four pillars:

- Academics - Concept-driven, inquiry-based learning prepares students for top universities worldwide
- Arts - Opportunities in visual arts, music, and performance starting from 3 years old
- Athletics - Participating in local and international sports tournaments, arts festivals, and conferences
- Service - Students engage meaningfully with local and global communities, developing empathy, leadership, and a sense of responsibility

Together, these pillars ensure students develop academically, creatively, physically, socially, and as globally minded individuals ready to contribute positively to the world around them.

"Our learners are prepared not just for school, but for the world beyond it."

A BOARDING EXPERIENCE THAT FEELS LIKE HOME

For students in Grades 8-12, AISJ's luxury boarding programme offers a supportive, independent environment where learners grow academically, socially, and personally. Boarding combines rigorous academics, personalised pathways, and a nurturing community, providing continuity and stability for families, especially those who are internationally mobile.

Students live and learn alongside peers from diverse backgrounds, forming friendships and skills that last a lifetime. Here, they develop independence, resilience, and a sense of belonging - preparing them for university, careers, and life beyond school.

"At AISJ, learning has no limits, and neither do our students."

WHY AISJ STANDS OUT

AISJ provides academic excellence, a global perspective, and a deep commitment to the whole child. Every student is recognised as an individual, with learning designed to meet their strengths, interests, and ways of thinking.

From the first steps in early childhood through graduation, we offer continuity, care, and community at every stage of the journey. Students explore their passions, build confidence and resilience, and grow as curious, capable, and independent learners.

Our goal is to shape learners who are not only academically prepared but also confident, adaptable, and ready to engage with the world. Students leave AISJ equipped - not just for the next grade, but for life beyond school, wherever their journey takes them.

Our students graduate ready for universities and opportunities around the globe. Our alumni have gone on to attend top institutions in the US, UK, South Africa and beyond, combining academic excellence with the skills and confidence to thrive anywhere in the world.

UNDERSTANDING DOGS THAT BARK

Living in an estate is not only about the people, but also about encountering their animals. Whether they're live pets or an endangered species mounted on a wall, everyone has an animal story to tell. Our companion pets are an extension of our families, and any criticism directed at them can easily create tension between neighbours.

Although there are numerous behavioural issues in dogs, let's focus on two common ones: continuous barking and separation anxiety.

There will always be two camps in the doggie barking arena. Those who believe that a constantly barking dog is acceptable because "that's what dogs do" (well, that's what their dogs do) and those who know how debilitating continuous barking can be if they live next door. Some people have even sold their homes to get away.

I'm sure everyone has experienced a WhatsApp group that can get quite nasty and personal. And whilst people bicker away, who is thinking about the emotional state of the barking dog? Is he bored, lonely, anxious, scared, happy, or excited? We need to understand that the dog is trying to communicate how he feels.

As an example, let's assume that the dog is anxious when the owner leaves. As the car pulls out of the driveway, the only way the dog knows how to cope with his stress is to bark. The other night, while trying to fall asleep, I heard the continuous, monotonous barking of a Beagle somewhere in the distance (they have distinctive barks). He eventually paused at around midnight for a few minutes, I assume to drink water, and then started barking again. He only went quiet when his owners returned home. In his mind, if he barks continuously, the owner will eventually come back, he then feels his coping strategy has worked, and his barking is reinforced. This becomes a vicious circle.

We therefore need to help the dog find alternate, more acceptable coping strategies to change how he feels when his owner leaves the house. Maybe the dog needs mental stimulation? Maybe he has sight of the road and has FOMO. Maybe he needs more exercise. Does his environment play a part? The list goes on, but many factors need to be considered against the specific needs of the breed (even a pavement special will resemble a type of dog, such as a Dachshund x Bull Terrier).

Each breed has its own required and obligatory needs, and we need to ensure that we give them the opportunity to express what they were born to do. Stress responses are often associated with this lack of expression. Taking the time to research and understand their needs achieves a win-win situation: we help our dogs, and in the process, we help our neighbours!

Let's quickly look at the emotions involved in separation anxiety. You may come home to chewed up cushions, blankets, shoes, or chairs – utter devastation. Whilst it could be signs of separation anxiety, your dog may be displaying "separation delight" – like a mischievous kid who's left alone and draws on the wall and raids the cookie jar. Both give you the same result but are driven by two completely different emotions.

Emotion 1: I'm scared. You left me alone, so I cope by destroying things, and it makes me feel better.

Emotion 2: I'm happy and excited. I've been left alone and can do anything I want before you get home.

Most importantly, and like people, every animal is an individual. No two are the same and there is no one solution for all. Understanding the individual animal's emotional state is so important when addressing behavioural issues. No child or animal will be able to learn new things if they are unhappy, sad, stressed, terrified, hungry, or thirsty.

By recognising and addressing how they feel in a respectful, kind, and loving way one can begin to address the problem. Let's make our estate a happy one for all who reside in it!

WHY KIDS NEED BOREDOM

even if it drives parents mad

By Nicola Killops

In a community like Waterfall City, where children have access to sports facilities, cycling paths, swimming pools, extra-murals and endless digital entertainment, boredom can feel unnecessary. We live in an environment designed to offer stimulation. When a child announces boredom, the instinct is to fix it quickly.

Suggest something.
Organise a playdate.
Hand over a device.

But boredom is not a problem. It is a developmental tool.

Unstructured time builds creative thinking

When children are not being directed or entertained, their brains shift into a reflective state. This is where imagination expands. It is where ideas connect and original thinking begins.

In structured activities, the rules are clear. In boredom, the rules must be created.

That shift matters. It encourages children to invent games, build worlds, design projects and follow curiosity. It strengthens creativity in a way that scheduled activities cannot replicate.

In an estate environment filled with opportunity, children still need time that is undefined.

Boredom teaches initiative

When everything is organised for a child, they never need to decide what comes next. Boredom forces that decision.

What should I do?
What could I create?
What interests me right now?

In answering those questions, children practise planning, organising and problem-solving.

They gather materials. They start and abandon ideas. They negotiate with siblings. They learn to manage time without constant instruction.

These are executive functional skills. They are foundational for academic success and independence later in life.

Learning to tolerate discomfort

Boredom is mildly uncomfortable. That discomfort is useful.

When there is no immediate stimulation, children must tolerate restlessness. They must wait. They must sit with the feeling of not knowing what to do.

In a world built around instant access and quick distraction, the ability to endure small amounts of discomfort builds resilience. It supports attention span. It reduces reliance on constant entertainment. It strengthens emotional regulation.

A child who can manage boredom can manage frustration more effectively too.

Independence builds confidence

There is also quiet confidence that grows when children solve boredom themselves.

When a child realises they can generate interest without help, they begin to trust their own thinking. That confidence transfers into schoolwork, social situations and creative tasks.

In estates where children often have rich schedules and abundant options, the goal is not fewer opportunities. It is space between them.

What boredom is not

This is not about neglect. It is not about removing stimulation or ignoring a child for long stretches. Persistent isolation is different from healthy unstructured times.

We are talking about ordinary boredom. A quiet afternoon. A slow school holiday morning. A weekend without a packed timetable.

Short periods of unstructured time are not harmful. They are productive.

Practical ways to allow it

If you want to experiment with giving boredom more space, start small.

Create a simple materials drawer or box with open-ended items. Paper, cardboard, art supplies, building blocks, garden tools, old magazines. Avoid items with instructions. Let imagination lead.

When your child says they are bored, pause before solving it. Ask what ideas they have. Give them time to think.

Avoid defaulting immediately to screens. Technology has its place, but instant entertainment removes the opportunity for self-directed problem-solving.

Make use of the estate itself. Encourage wandering in the garden, cycling, building forts, sketching under a tree or inventing games in shared green spaces. Safe environments are ideal for unstructured exploration.

A small shift in perspective

In high-performing communities, it is easy to equate busy with productivity. Yet constant activity does not automatically build independence.

Boredom does something quieter and more powerful. It teaches children how to generate interest, tolerate discomfort and trust their own ideas.

The next time you hear "I'm bored," resist the urge to rush in.

Give it a moment.

What looks like nothing happening may be the start of something important.
